

Guy K. Flesher

Our late brother and secretary, Guy K. Flesher, passed away at the Marine Hospital in this city May 5th, 1912.

Brother Flesher at the time he procured chief engineer's license shared the distinction with Brother J. Carscardon, of Association No. 24, of being the youngest engineer on the Southern and Western rivers holding first class license.

With no intention of questioning the workings of an all wise Providence, we have to confess that our finite minds are unable to understand a destiny which removes from our ranks a fellow craftsman in the bright promise of a successful career, whose lovable personality and unquestionable loyalty combined with a proved willingness to work and sacrifice for the advancement of this association insures our affectionate remembrance.

Realizing that praise of the dead is oftimes so unwarranted as to be fulsome, we deem it sufficient to state that this man so lived, that now, no one can truthfully say aught of him but good.

Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association No. 30.

From The American Marine Engineer, Volumes 7-8, page 34, July 1912